WHEN ROLAND REGAN AND FREDERICK MAURIELLO went off to fight the Germans in World War II, they packed cameras and notepaper. And they documented their experiences, Roland with photos, Frederick with letters to his family. Roland's photos, developed after the war, never went through Army censorship and show an honest firsthand view of the war from the eyes of an enlisted man. Frederick's letters show a young man's devotion to his family, his good-will, and his growing distrust of military authority. As a whole, this collection is a testimony to the courage, faith, and loyalty of all the men who served during World War II.

These priceless documents, presented by their sons in this book, offer readers an intimate glimpse at a unique aspect of the American experience.
